DETAILED ACTION

Claim Status

Claims 1-10 are currently pending.

Applicant's election without traverse of Specie III (Figure 5) in the reply filed on March 7, 2007 is acknowledged.

The Applicant states:

For the purpose of examination of the present application, Applicants elect Species III, illustrated in Fig(s). 5, without traverse.

Claims 4-7 and 10 read on the elected species.

See page 2 of the Response filed March 7, 2007. Claims 1-3, 8 and 9 are currently withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on March 7, 2007.

Abstract

The replacement abstract filed on August 15, 2007 has been approved by the Examiner.

Drawings

The replacement drawings filed on August 15, 2007 have been approved by the Examiner.

Claim Rejections

Insofar as the claims can be best understood in light of the Applicant's disclosure, the following rejections, articulated in detail, are deemed prima facie appropriate, based on a preponderance of the evidence.

As recited MPEP§2106:

Office personnel are to give claims their broadest reasonable interpretation in light of the supporting disclosure. In re Morris, 127 F.3d 1048, 1054-55, 44 USPQ2d 1023, 1027-28 (Fed. Cir. 1997). Limitations appearing in the specification but not recited in the claim are not read into the claim. In re Prater, 415 F.2d 1393, 1404-05, 162 USPQ 541, 550-551 (CCPA 1969). In re Zletz, 893 F.2d 319, 321-22, 13 USPQ2d 1320, 1322 (Fed. Cir. 1989) ("During patent examination the pending claims must be interpreted as broadly as their terms reasonably allow. . . . The reason is simply that during patent prosecution when claims can be amended, ambiguities should be recognized, scope and breadth of language explored, and clarification imposed. . . . An essential purpose of patent examination is to fashion claims that are precise, clear, correct, and unambiguous. Only in this way can uncertainties of claim scope be removed, as much as possible, during the administrative process."). [Emphasis in bold italics added].

As set forth in the MPEP§ 706, "the standard to be applied in all cases is the 'preponderance of the evidence' test. In other words, an examiner should reject a claim if, in view of the prior art and evidence of record, it is more likely than not that the claim is unpatentable." Emphasis in bold italics added.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 4-7 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lee et al. (KR 2002-69547 A).

As per claim 4, Lee et al. (KR 2002-69547 A) discloses a disc loading device (FIGS. 3, 4) comprising: a tray (60) in which a disc is placed; a main chassis (40) into which the tray (60) is loaded and from which the tray (60) is unloaded; a guide groove (63) disposed parallel to a loading/unloading direction in the tray (60) or the main chassis (40); guides (43, 43) that are disposed at the main chassis (40) or the tray (60) and engage with the guide groove (63); and an elastic body (46, 46) that is disposed in the vicinity of a loading start position or an unloading end position of the tray (60) and that presses a side wall of the guide groove (63) (see FIG. 4) and the guides (43, 43) in the right angle direction to loading/unloading of the tray (60) and parallel to a plane on which the disc is placed (e.g., see abstract and FIGS. 4 and 5).

As per claim 5, wherein at the time of loading/unloading of the tray (3), a displacement amount of the elastic body (46, 46) in the vicinity of a loading start position or an unloading end position of the tray (60) is larger than a displacement amount at another portion (due to the elastic body compression, as opposed to its uncompressed state when not engaging the tray (60)).

As per claim 6, wherein the guides (43, 43) are plurally disposed in the vicinity of the loading start position or the unloading end position of the tray (60), and the elastic body (46, 46) is disposed between adjacent guides (43, 43) - see FIG. 4.

As per claim 7, wherein the elastic body (46, 46) is plurally disposed in the vicinity of the loading start position or the unloading end position of the tray (60), and the guides (43, 43) are disposed between adjacent elastic bodies (e.g., see FIG. 4).

As per claim 10, wherein the elastic body (46, 46) is disposed integrally with the main chassis (40) or the tray (60) - see FIG. 5.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 4-7 and 10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

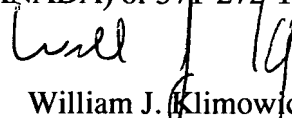

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
